Trustee Cushman called the meeting to order at 4:31 PM.

Deborah Corsner provided an overview of programs at the Newark Campus and that there are two part-time Campus Coordinators. She explained the enrollment slide for 2024-2025, further explaining that in Fall of 1982 there were 10 core sections and now we have target partnerships with PTECH and discussed that requirements changed over time. We now have 8 core sections and viewing Spring to Fall enrollment we have 8 credit core sections running currently. Discussion related to general noncredit courses was discussed in terms of an example of the welding course. They also have noncredit GED and are a GED testing site. The slides in the packet are a representation of the different programs offered. We are working with Patrick to expand with a Spanish class opportunity. We offer the Impaired driving program (IDP) and are a testing site for nursing. We have partnerships in Newark and now also have the DOL with an office space at the Newark Campus Center. There has been a lot of traffic with DOL being here in terms of people looking for jobs, job fairs, and the opportunity to view and consider credit and noncredit offerings through the Workforce and Career Center. STEAM Camp occurs at the Newark Campus every year and is one week in length. We continue to foster partnerships and will host a youth registration in the fall for grades 6-9. VICE Chancellor Christopher White from SUNY may be at the ribbon cutting ceremony representing our partnership between DOL and FLCC on April 24th.

Trustee Wille inquired about the recruitment process. Deborah explained that we develop a marketing plan every year promoting initiatives. There are 1:1 sessions that led to involvement from the Admissions Department to talk through the application process and participation in PTECH and other options, not just for college degree, however many become more involved once they see what can be offered and decide to complete a degree. With the participation with DOL and the job fairs it has led to referrals for individuals looking to upscale their skills for various positions. Trustee Wille feels with the location there is outreach for Marion, Lyons, Clyde, Savannah and relatively no competition. Deborah explained that the online modalities has been our competition and a threat to the enrollment process at Newark. Matt Stever discussed that Admissions works closely together with Newark for the various course offerings related to health care and with students that are juniors and pursuing the Gemini courses and then proceed with continuous contact based on touch points.

Review of March 5, 2025, Committee Meeting Minutes

Trustee Cushman inquired if there were any changes, additions, corrections. None noted.

Enrollment Report

Dr. Urbaitis discussed the enrollment report in the packet and updated as of March 28th overall enrollment is up 4.6%, she further explained that Gemini State Aid is down, and we are down 11.9% FTE full term courses moving into the fall. Trustee Cushman inquired about transfers, and do we know how students are coming in as SUNY or non-SUNY students? Dr. Urbaitis does not have that off the top of her head, but it was noted that MCC sends us the most students based on the data. Trustee Martin mentioned that his understanding is that students take online courses here rather than Cornell due to the cost. The online enrollment has gone up. Ryan McCabe discussed that 72% of students that attended over summer were online students and weren't FLCC students but rather other institutions. We have 75 sections of physics online. Many are coming from Binghamton University and University of Delaware.

Student Success: Augmented Reality Welding Program & Partnerships – Patrick Bennett & Ryan McCabe

Ryan McCabe, AVP of Academic Technology and High Impact Practices for Online Learning and Patrick, Bennett, Assistant Director Ryan discussed the slides and that it is been exciting over the last 2 years, and we just graduated our 1st class. This was accomplished utilizing SUNY money as transitional funding. The technology is amazing and every student that graduated got a job. FLCC is great at coming up with an idea and finding the funding. Patrick discussed the demographics and that the students were all from Wayne County. Information was outlined in the slides presented at the meeting and in the Board of Trustees Packet. Discussion of the need for additional devices for the Welding program because it is a bit of a problem to have devices at Newark and then not enough at Victor. College might not be the path for every person. The average pay for these welding positions is $26-$46 per hour working on bridges and in the winter, season work on snow plowing. The Academic Certifications are 3 days a week, and our closest competition is a 12-month program. There are schools constantly contacting Patrick related to the programs offered to get certification and then into a job. The welding union falls under DOL apprentice trade. The partners we have are working out well. Senator Helming made it a priority to be able to attend the first graduating class ceremony. Ryan explained that this program benefits new hires, the underemployed, and any field in demand that can draw students in, the art program is another one in terms of sculpture. Provides engagement in the community. Ryan discussed that there is not a lack of space or need for insurance because the students are not doing live welding. The question came up if secondary schools could assist with funding for their students to go through the program or if there were Foundations that would make donations.

Resolutions

Robin Campo, Coordinator of IT Services and Instructional Technology & Ed Kelty, Chief Information Officer

Ed referred to Robin to speak about Jeff since she has known him much longer than Ed. Robin explained that Jeff has been Manager of Technology Systems for 5 years. She further explained that his self-evaluation Fully supports the contributions that Jeff has made and the great work he has done on behalf of the college. Robin explained that FLCC strives to be here for the community and has provided a GED program, that is where Jeff started with his commitment to completing his GED and then wanted to be an example for his children and to make better choices and as a result have a better path in life. Jeff continued with an A.S. degree in communications at FLCC. At the time Bill White who was in charge of instructional technology gained a mutual respect with Jeff and Jeff became a student aid and fixed equipment, ran cables in all phases Bill took Jeff under his wing. Once Jeff completed his A.S. degree, he moved on to SUNY Brockport for his bachelor's degree and working part time, if that wasn't enough with his academic and family responsibilities, he would predawn work on AV events and at nights be delivering pizzas with a smile on his face. Jeff helped with professional installations and saved FLCC thousands of dollars, and he was the expert. Upon graduation from Brockport, I was thinking he was going to resign. He stayed with us that summer and came back from the Covid down time assisting with the 17 Hy flex classroom set ups and not one of them malfunctioned. We did not have a full-time position at that time. One Saturday night the phone rang, and it was John Taylor notifying Robin that Bill White had been killed in an accident. We did offer Jeff an interim position there was no question that he would get that job done. With grief and a bit of guilt Jeff filled Bill's shoes and she knows Bill would want that. Jeff fully exemplifies the mission, Vision and Values of FLCC. Trustee Cushman appreciates the recommendation.

Debora Ortloff, VP for Strategic Initiatives and Assessment discussed the resolution related to Approve Finger Lakes Community College 2025 Strategic Plan Grants. She distributed a paper copy to the Board of Trustees. This is the type of initiatives recommended by Governor Hochul. Debora thanked the committee members that reviewed the proposals taking in consideration limited resources. Information related to the projects will periodically be presented to the Board of Trustees. The Paralegal program was discussed and the relationship with AI to meet the demand of the curriculum. Single Stop software as a benefit to students because if students are hungry, they can't learn, if they are worried about a roof over their head they can't learn. Providing available resources through agencies that can provide help. The Anatomage table allows the time for nursing and faculty to utilize the incubator area. She discussed outreach and conversations with partners for community engagement allows us to emerge students with success tools to learn. The Culinary Arts program with the use of Hololens provides a great example of innovation where Christine Parker and Jamie Rotter will provide the experience of butchering a cow. There is a lot happening with the conservation area and future visualization. There is involvement with applied learning with high school working with area businesses through internships as part of their curriculum.

The development of AI tutoring and bringing that together. Professor Samanta's project sector within the tech industry. Trustee Cushman commented on the envisioned opportunities of innovation and the silo busters that occur as result. Trustee Cushman discussed that at the ACTT Conference last year that he, Trustees Mihalik, and Martin were mobbed based on the ideas put forth that FLCC is involved with. Trustee Martin commented that this is an impressive Round 2 from the 2+2 Committee review. Trustee Mihalik inquired about the Anatomage projects in terms of when the table is purchased and how is the process followed along? The funds end once the table is purchased. Debora explained that for any project funded we follow throughout to make sure to track the metrics. These types of projects began the start of community engagement. Trustee Martin asked about the method of review as to what worked, what didn't work. Debora discussed that we have had three Strategic plans that involved three Presidents, there have been early successes and others that have led to additional projects. Trustee Martin suggested a Keynote Luncheon talk of approximately 45 minutes to update on projects. Debora has had a similar experience with SUNY folks related to investment vs. expense analysis.

Strategic Thought Presentation – Supporting Healthcare Education and Our Community – Mehegan Murphy, Matt Stever, Shayna Turner-Johnson reviewed presentation in packet.

Strategic Thought Presentation
Supporting Healthcare Education and Our Community-Mehegan Murphy, Director of Academic Advising, Career and Transfer Services; Matt Stever, Director of Admissions; Shayna Turner-Johnson, Associate Professor Nursing - Shayna discussed the support of health care in the community with the Nursing expansion in our building. In the Spring 2023 we had 64 students, and, in the Fall of 2023, we had 63 students. For Fall of 2024 we had 80 students. With the program there have been curriculum changes, and the Fall of 2022 there was a certificate program developed with 16 students initially attending, we still have 11 students in that program. The 12 Month certificate program has 32 students enrolled for fall of 2025. These are credit bearing courses providing a pathway for CAN, LPN, RN. We work with Admissions to create the student pathways to get to the next program. In Fall of 2022 we had concept-based curriculum, the medical model. First timers had a success rate of hundred percentage passing. The next generation for nursing is a little more interactive and we have 100% job placement. Thompson Health is very good for clinical placements and LPN clinical rotation we are working to increase that partnership. Accreditation body visits every 8 years and next March 3-5/2026 we will partake in that process. Pathways this past Spring provided additional options for programs such as direct health care studies which provides a direct line to have first dibs for the nursing program. Retention of nursing employees as instructors is an issue, we have currently 22 employees to instruct for Fall and of 64 seats, 52 are reserved. The Marketing Department did a fantastic job on promoting the Nursing Program.

Matt discussed the process related to creating pathways for current and transfer students. He discussed that LPNs have a creative opportunity to complete Nursing School. Matt explained that Dr. Urbaitis provides the opportunity to nursing to have a working group every week for a meeting to allow for training and communication. Put into practice success for us utilizing the SLATE system for operationalize nursing application, allowing us to figure out how to communicate with students in a different way. Students take a few classes and are ranked to get into the program. Health care students and LPN students get different programs at a different time. We review our process and sample the various variables and touchpoints. The promotion with assistance from Christen Accardi, Marketing Director has a specific page dedicated to Nursing on the FLCC Website. There was a digital campaign at a cost of $20,000 dollars that allows us the opportunity for 1:1 counseling appointment. The appointment slots are always booked and there is availability from 2PM-9 PM. As indicated by Shayna the relationship with Thompson Health is good and we have a two-day event to promote the opportunity for students to explore if this is the right path for them. Trustee Astles inquired about additional partnerships with other hospitals beyond FF Thompson, one being Geneva. Shayna explained that Geneva does have an RN/LPN program however we do collaborate on associated boards and work closely together. Trustee Wille also mentioned Clifton Springs and S& S Hospital as alternative areas to explore for engagement. The capacity of enrollment will more than likely be a waitlist for the fall. Trustee Wille mentioned engaging St. John Fisher, Nazareth, Keuka, and Brockport for transfer agreements. Trustee Cushman discussed the directive from the Governor related to the adult student and funds available for students. Matt mentioned that internally community colleges do market the SUNY colleges.

Mehegan discussed the heartbreak that occurs for students related to the costs of education and that financial aid might end at 19. The opportunity for a pathway as an older student 10 years later may feel like they are on the same pathway and funds will run out. The change and the funds available are exciting because it takes out a barrier providing less of the burden. The program is not built for the traditional age student. This is more focused on 25 and up. There are funds available for the single parent to cover emergencies for example if their car breaks down. There are questions during the admission pathway as to what is coming down the pipeline and that will continue to be a topic of conversation. Matt discussed we received 1600 applications and only 400 applications are under the age of 25. Trustee Cushman inquired about the challenges with waitlist related to other issues as to the affordability cost and how to deal with it. The next budget cycle will need to allow for corrections due to the changes and this will be clearly communicated with Dr. Nye. Due to the increase in enrollments and the lack of Nursing instructors there is concern. Trustee Martin is interested in that being evaluated and asked the salary range for nursing placements. Shayna discussed that placements at mid-range are 73,000-78,000 at a regional hospital. There are several open positions where the recruitment of faculty is lower or at that range making it very difficult. We need better marketing strategies for BSN into masters' positions. We can't put in seats based on accreditation policy to teach nursing master's program without the level of educated instructors. Trustee Cushman mentioned that the advocacy needs to be there to attract that level. Trustee Mihalik asked where do you see planning going next with all the different elements of capacity, hours, and placement availability? Matt explained from an Admissions standpoint the first full year we are in assessment mode from now to two years from now. SLATE is a recruitment tool and explained that he and Mehegan work together every single day related to advisement and admission needs so that the process is seamless. Matt is excited about the waitlist because we emerged from COVID, and we have increased the numbers. Mehegan explained the processes are more efficient behind the scenes. Dr. Nye explained that FLCC has been ahead in the state related to the Nursing Program and we are aware we need more support related to Instructors. We have been very candid with the bargaining units about the shortage of Nursing Faculty.

Dr. Nye congratulated the team presenting because we have quality students that will provide facilities with the needs related to nursing shortages.
